To whom this may concern;

My family signed up for the no call list for a reason. We value our privacy, and family time in this day and time is too precious to be ruined by unwanted telephone solicitation. If a business wants to contact me, they can send it in letter form, and I can address whatever issues they have at my convenience, not theirs. For a bank to use the guise of an "established business relationship" is nothing more than an invasion of my privacy for their profit. Please do not allow this attempt to alter the Indiana no call list to occur. I will make it a point to forward Steve Carter's letter to every one I know both personal and professional. Thank you for your time. Carla Cummings
